Principal's Note

Thank you for your work and dedication in helping your student be successful thus far. It was fun to see the costumes and participate in our Halloween Carnival again this year. We appreciate you supporting this event and bidding on baskets. We had a lot of positive feedback again this year. Thank you to those who were instrumental in making it happen and donating items.

We completed our first AR party to recognize your child's efforts in reading books during the first portion of the year. We were able to hike up to the C and talk about preparing for the future as well as what it means to be a Cokeville Panther. We were excited to hear your children's thoughts on what it means to be a Cokeville Panther. Thank you for continuing to encourage your students to read and practice their math facts. Math facts are foundational to future math and being able to efficiently complete math problems. You make a difference. It is fun to see your students excel.

As we shift into winter, thank you for ensuring your student is prepared for the elements. Recess during the winter can be fun if students are able to stay warm. CES has some winter items. If it would be helpful to your family, please let us know and we will check what we have.

We will be hosting a visiting author on Monday, November 6, 2023 at CHS. Brandon Mull, an extremely famous young adult author, will have time to present to CHS and upper grades from CES. This is a great opportunity to provide cultural opportunities for our community and students and for students to connect with another best-selling author. This experience can also help students to see themselves as authors. Please visit with your child about the experience as this can help students to see the value you place on literacy.

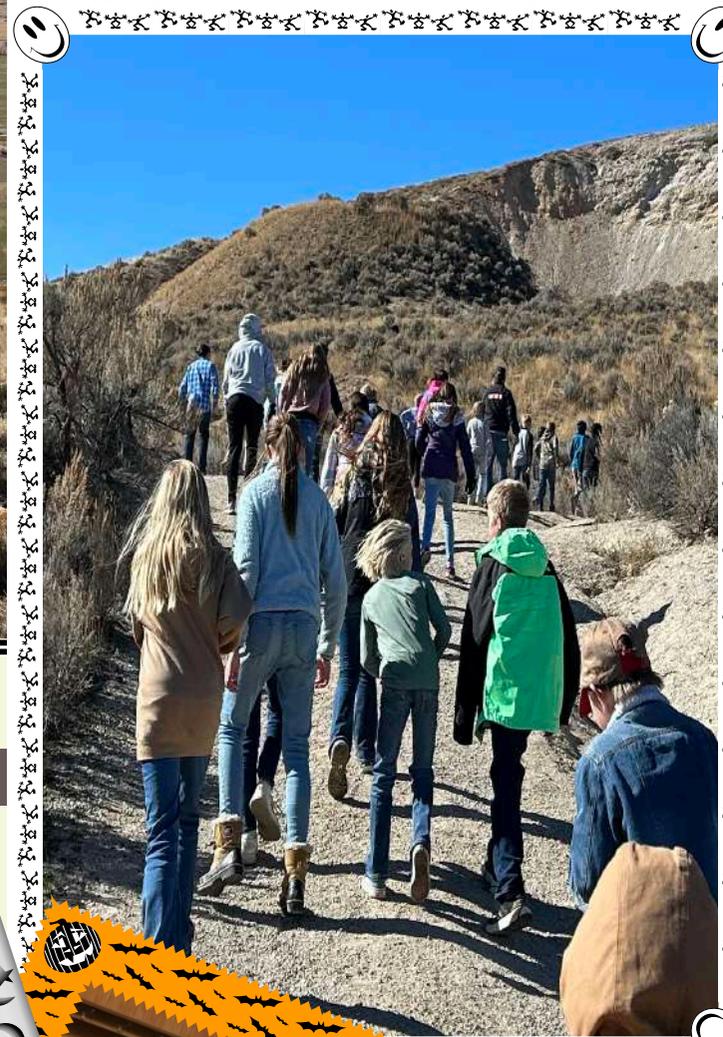

Thank you again for your hard work and dedication in supporting your child's learning.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Dietz
Cokeville K-12 Principal.
