LITERACY WEEK

We have a super exciting week planned to celebrate reading. Many helpful people met and devised several really engaging activities for our students.

- * Our week will be kicked off bright and early Monday (8:30) with an assembly featuring talented SVHS students sharing their favorite fairy tales.
- * Daily, we will have a school wide Drop everything and Read. An announcement will be made at which time everyone will drop what they are doing to immerse themselves in a good book. Included in the announcement will be the winners of the daily book drawing.
- * Who doesn't love the chance of winning their very own package of cookies courtesy of the Cookie Monster? Students will be playing bingo in hopes of being one of the daily winners!
- * Bedtime Stories have been revived for your listening or viewing pleasure through SVI Media. We would like to thank Mrs. Karen Johnson and Mrs. Michelle Miles for representing Osmond as our readers.
- * Each day the students will be encouraged to dress up.
  - Monday*: mixed up clothes (i.e. backward shirt, different shoes etc.)
  - Tuesday*: wear something green in honor of Dr. Seuss.
  - Wednesday*: wear a shirt with appropriate words on it. A saying, a poem, a slogan, etc.
  - Thursday*: dress as a favorite book character.

The week's activities will go a long way towards building our student's enthusiasm for reading and writing.

Osmond Elementary Students make the most of winter!

Osmond students not only learn in the classroom about geography, the environment, and critical math concepts such as standard operations, averaging, graphing, and communicating results – they've been busy experiencing real world application to these key academic standards!
